“Discovering Interpreting Patterns”

Workshop Description: Engage in a workshop in which you will explore information related to your work and hard formed patterns that you may have developed over the years of interpreting. We will be discussing how the habit loop affects your interpreting work and how you can reinforce positive interpreting habits through deliberate practice. Some of these practices we will discuss including journaling, self and peer reflection and mentorship.

“The Blurred Lines of Educational Interpreting”

Workshop Overview: This workshop is designed to provide a forum where educational interpreters can come together and discuss their roles in the school system. Participants will learn more about their roles in the classroom, understand what they do in the classroom, and discuss strategies that can allow interpreters to empower students in their own learning experience.

“Social Media Impact & Influences on the Interpreting Field”

Workshop Description: Whether you are a beginner or an experienced interpreter, this workshop invites you to partake in an engaging and meaningful dialogue regarding social media and the impacts on how interpreters work. We will also focus on confidentiality, and how it changes the dynamic of relationships we have with other professional interpreters, the Deaf community, and stakeholders within our field. This workshop will integrate the Code of Professional Conduct along with standard practice papers from various professions to discuss our professions approach to social media.

“Interpreting Skill Development through the Art of Improv”

Workshop Description: Step outside your everyday routine and see the world through a new lens, discover your inner confidence, to be present, active listen, be creative, and trust yourselves and others, developing language, character building, and gaining confidence in your own voice through these improv actives. You will spend the morning getting to know your colleagues better through improv activities that will provide you with new skills and insights to yourself and your work as an interpreter.
